Marylyn Dintenfass is an internationally recognized artist whose work is found in public, corporate and private collections in Italy, Denmark, Israel, Japan and the United States. More than 25 public collections hold her work, including The Metropolitan Museum of Art, Minneapolis Institute of Arts, Mississippi Museum of Art, Cleveland Museum of Art, Detroit Institute of Art, Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, and The Smithsonian American Art Museum.

The artist has been the subject of more than a dozen solo exhibitions at venues such as The Queens Museum of Art, The Katonah Museum, The Schenectady Museum of Art, Hamlin University Museum of Art, and the Port Authority of New York/New Jersey, and has participated in more than 60 national and international group exhibitions.

Dintenfass has twice been a MacDowell Fellow and has received both an Individual Artist Fellowship Grant from the New York Foundation for the Arts and two project grants from the National Endowment for the Arts. She was awarded the Silver Medal at the First International, Mino, Japan, and The Ravenna Prize at the 45th Faenza International in Italy.

Academic positions have included Visiting Professor at the National College of Art and Design in Bergen and Oslo, Norway; Bezalel Academy of Art and Design in Jerusalem, Israel; Sheridan College in Toronto, Canada; and Hunter College in New York City. She was a member of the faculty at Parsons School of Design in New York City for ten years.

A monograph of the artist's paintings will be published in the fall of 2006.
